Adams County Bicentennial announces Adams Fiber as Major Sponsor

Quincy, IL — The Adams County Bicentennial Commission is pleased to announce Adams Fiber as a major sponsor to the Bicentennial celebration. A check presentation took place on Thursday, October 10, 2024 at their 3555 North 24th Street, Quincy location. Jim Broemmer, CEO of Adams Fiber, and Bridgette Northern, Marketing Director of Adams Fiber, presented representatives of the Adams County Bicentennial Commission a check for $10,000 for their fundraising efforts.

“As Adams County celebrates its 200th anniversary, Adams Fiber is honored to contribute to this historic milestone,” said Broemmer. “Being a part of this community for over 70 years, we've seen first-hand the progress and resilience of our residents. Just as we've dedicated ourselves to providing reliable internet and communication services to keep our community connected, we're equally committed to supporting initiatives that celebrate our shared heritage and bright future. We look forward to joining you all in honoring our remarkable past and the promising years ahead.”

As a cornerstone of our local telecommunications and broadband Internet services community, Adams Fiber’s support highlights its commitment to celebrating and preserving the rich history of Adams County. This financial contribution will help fund a range of Bicentennial events and initiatives planned for 2025, including educational programs, community celebrations, and historical commemorations.

About Adams Fiber: With over 70 years of experience in the telecommunications industry, Adams Fiber (started as Adams Telephone Co-Operative) has maintained its status as a preferred provider for telephone, and Internet services by adhering to the core mission they began with in 1952: commitment to customer service. Adams provides the region with telephone and broadband Internet services in places where there was previously little or no coverage, and they’ve done it by continually improving and expanding technology while delivering personal, responsive service to every customer. While known for Internet offerings, Adams has been a quality provider of telephone/voice service for homes and businesses for years. The company also specializes in business communications services, working successfully with small family owned companies to major industrial and corporate clients.

About Adams County Bicentennial: The Adams County Bicentennial celebrates 200 years of history, resilience, and community spirit in Adams County, IL. Through a diverse range of events, the Bicentennial aims to honor the county's heritage and engage residents and visitors alike in celebrating its contributions to the region.
