Adams County Bicentennial Accepting Year-End Donations

Adams County, IL — In the spirit of the giving season, the Adams County Bicentennial Commission is excited to announce its campaign for year-end donations to help fund the array of events, initiatives, and projects planned for 2025 and beyond in celebration of Adams County's 200th anniversary.

As we prepare for this historic milestone, the Bicentennial Commission has partnered with The Community Foundation to manage The Adams County Bicentennial Fund. The Community Foundation, a trusted nonprofit partner serving 12 counties in our region including Adams, ensures that all contributions are handled securely and responsibly, allowing donors to support the celebration with confidence.

"The Bicentennial of Adams County is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to honor our rich history and vibrant community," said Pam Shaffer, Co-Chair of the Bicentennial Commission. "Your generous contributions will help us create meaningful events, educational programs, and legacy projects that will bring our community together and leave a lasting impact."

Gifts can be made in a variety of ways:

- Mail: Send checks payable to "The Community Foundation Bicentennial Fund" to 621 Vermont Street, Quincy, IL 62301
- Online: Visit www.mycommunityfoundation.org/adams-county-bicentennial-fund to donate quickly and securely.
- In-person: Drop off your donation at 621 Vermont Street, Quincy, where staff will be happy to assist you.

Every gift, no matter the size, plays a vital role in ensuring the success of the bicentennial celebrations. Together, we can create a year of events and initiatives, as well as help fund legacy projects that honor the past, celebrate the present, and inspire the future of Adams County.

Thank you for your support in making Adams County's 200th anniversary a momentous occasion for all to remember.
