Adams County Bicentennial Announces Major Sponsorship

Adams County, IL — The Adams County Bicentennial Commission is pleased to announce a significant new sponsorship as part of its ongoing efforts to celebrate Adams County's 200th anniversary in 2025. JM Huber, a proud supporter of the community, will present a generous contribution to the Commission's fundraising efforts at an upcoming press conference.

The event will take place on Thursday, January 9, 2025, starting at 10:00 AM at JM Huber's Quincy headquarters located at 4150 Gardner Expressway. Representatives from JM Huber and the Adams County Bicentennial Commission will be present to answer questions from the media. A formal check presentation ceremony will also be held during the event. Members of the media and public are invited to attend the press conference to learn more about this exciting sponsorship and the Bicentennial Commission's plans for the 2025 celebration.

"JM Huber Corporation has been a cornerstone of Adams County for many decades, with three plants providing jobs and security for residents of both Illinois and Missouri," said Steve McQueen, Plant Manager, Performance Minerals Huber Engineered Materials SBU. "The Huber family's commitment to our community has been unwavering, contributing significantly to our local economy and the well-being of countless families."

The contribution from JM Huber will play a vital role in supporting the wide array of events and initiatives planned for the Adams County Bicentennial celebration in 2025 and beyond. This milestone offers a unique opportunity to honor the county's rich history, celebrate its present achievements, and build excitement for its future.

"We are incredibly grateful to JM Huber for their generous support of our Bicentennial celebration," said Mark Peter, Adams County Bicentennial Commission. "Their contribution underscores their commitment to our community and will help make this once-in-a-lifetime celebration truly memorable."
